Homework Policy

Introduction

Edenmore N.S. Homework Policy was reviewed during the 2014-2015 school year. Teachers, parents and pupils were involved in the review. The review took place in response to concerns about homework from teachers and parents. Evidence was gathered and analysed from a pupil survey, a parents focus group and at staff meetings.

Rationale

Home work fosters independence, self-reliance, self – esteem, co-operation, responsibility and lifelong learning. It is an essential part of primary education as it re-enforces what children learn in school. It provides a link between teacher and parent and encourages parental involvement in their child’s education.

In general homework is meant to be achievable by a child working on their own to the best of their ability. Younger children, however, will obviously need more support than older children. It is normally based on what has been taught in class.

Relationship to characteristic spirit of the school

Edenmore N.S. seeks to enable each child to develop his /her potential. Homework encourages pupils to work independently and take responsibility for their assignments.

Aims

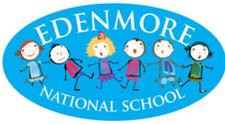

The school hopes to achieve these aims following the review.

-  To benefit pupils learning.
-  To reinforce work done in class.
-  To develop study skills.
-  To promote a similar approach to homework across all classes.
-  To strengthen links between home and school.

Parents’/Guardians’ role

Ireland's Constitution states that parents are the child's primary educators. Children spend significantly more time at home than at school therefore support from home is vital for a child's development during primary school. Children need to know that their parents think homework is important. If they know their parents care, children have a good reason to complete assignments and turn them in on time. There is a lot that you can do to show that you value education and homework. Homework can bring together parents, children and teachers in a common effort to improve student learning. Helping your child with homework is an opportunity to improve your child’s chances of doing well in school and life. By helping your child with homework, you can help him/her learn important lessons about discipline and responsibility. You are in a unique position to help your child make connections between school work and the ‘real world’ and thereby bring meaning and fun to your child’s homework experience.

Homework should be enjoyable and should promote learning as an enjoyable experience.

Homework Policy

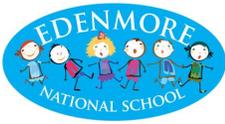

Parents/Guardians should

- ✓ Encourage a positive attitude towards homework in all subjects from an early age.
- ✓ Encourage children to work independently as far as possible. Resist over-helping.
- ✓ Encourage children to organize themselves for homework. Have all books and materials to hand. The pupil should have the Homework Journal/ Sheet open to tick off work as it is completed.
- ✓ Agree a suitable time for doing homework, taking into account age, the need for playtime, relaxation and family time.
- ✓ Monitor how long their child is spending at homework. Set clear but realistic starting and finishing times to keep children focused and to avoid homework 'dragging on' all evening.
- ✓ Providing a quiet place, suitable work surface, free from distractions, interruptions and TV.
- ✓ Encourage good presentation and neatness within a reasonable time.
- ✓ Ensure they read with/to their child/ren regularly, in a relaxed atmosphere where the emphasis is on enjoyment.
- ✓ Sign the homework diary checking that all homework is complete.
- ✓ All homework which has been done in the After School Homework Club must be checked and signed by the parents/guardians.
- ✓ Check that the child has all necessary books, homework journal, copies, pencils, mathematical equipment, dictionary, PE clothes, if needed for the next school day.
- ✓ Communicate difficulties to the teacher using the homework journal.

How often is homework given?

Homework is usually given on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays but not on Fridays with certain exceptions:

- If homework has been neglected during the week, without explanation from parents.
- In senior classes some project work may be undertaken at weekends.

- If a pupil has been sick the weekend might be an ideal time to catch up with work covered in class during his/her absence.
- Children may bring library books home to read for enjoyment at the weekends.
- Sometimes, at the discretion of the class teacher or the principal, children are given ‘homework off’ as a treat, as a reward or as acknowledgement of some special occasion.

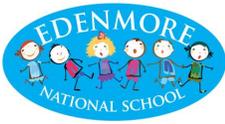

Homework Content

- Usually, homework contains a balance between reading tasks, learning tasks and written tasks. This balance is not always possible and can vary considerably from day to day. However, it should be noted that homework time devoted to reading and learning is as important as written work.
- Homework will regularly contain reading, spellings, tables, written work, pieces to be ‘learned by heart’, drawing/colouring, collecting information/items and finishing work started in class. Children often feel that reading and ‘learning by heart’ is not real homework. Parents can play an important role in listening to reading and items to be learned, ensuring this work is done well. Listening to reading is extremely important in the Junior Classes.
- Occasionally pupils will be required to prepare in advance for certain school events. This may be for a Halloween Dress Up, Science Project, Concerts, Sports Day etc. Parents will be given good notice of these events through the dates to remember which is issued at the beginning of each term. Reminders will also be given in the Homework Journal.
- Homework is more beneficial if carefully planned by teachers and if it has direct meaning to students. It should be a positive experience, not a punishment exercise. Homework in general is based on the pupil’s ability. For some children attending Resource/Learning Support homework is often set by the RT/LST allowing pupils to work at their own level of ability.

Duration of Homework

The following are guidelines for time spent at homework. Different children will complete the same homework in different lengths of time. Time spent may vary from day to day and also from the beginning to the end of the school year. It is important to remember that it is the quality and not the quantity of homework that matters. The following are general guidelines:

Infants	Up to 20 minutes
1st & 2nd	20 to 30 minutes
3rd & 4th	30 to 45 minutes(up to 60 minutes)
5th & 6th	45 to 60 minutes(up to 1 hour 15 minutes)

Homework Policy

Pupils should

- ✓ enter homework accurately at school in their homework journal
- ✓ ensure they take home relevant books and copies
- ✓ complete homework assignments to the best of their ability
- ✓ present written work neatly.

Teachers' Role

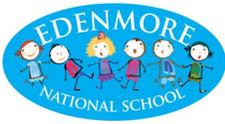

- ✓ The teacher will set appropriate homework, review assignments and provide feedback to students. They will monitor and differentiate homework to cater for all pupils. They should think critically about exactly what they assign and why it is being assigned. Teachers will regularly evaluate the homework they set to ensure that it is of benefit to the children.
- ✓ Teachers will communicate with parents about homework on a regular basis via (a) the Homework Journal and at Parent/Teacher meetings.
- ✓ Teachers should be made aware of any extenuating circumstances which may affect the pupils homework. Teachers may send home at the beginning of the school year, a list of recommended viewing e.g. News round, CBBC programmes and educational websites which are suitable for children. They will outline what is expected from pupils/parents in relation to homework.

How often do teachers monitor homework?

- Ideally, teachers check homework on a daily basis. However, with large class numbers, it is - not always possible to check each child's homework and/or journal every day.
- As children get older and learn to work independently, some items of homework are checked less often, e.g. every second day or once a week. Some items of homework (and class work) may be checked by children themselves, under the direction of the teacher. This can be a useful part of the learning process for children as it promotes responsibility and self esteem.
- Some items of homework, such as project work or work requiring research on behalf of the children, may be set over a longer period of time, especially in the older classes. This is good preparation for secondary school where homework is often staggered.

What happens when Homework is not done?

- Parents should send a note, in the homework diary, to the class teacher explaining why the child has been unable to complete their homework.
- When homework is not done regularly or without explanation the teacher will contact parents with a view to discussing and resolving the situation.
- If the situation continues, then the matter is brought to the attention of the Principal who will contact the parent(s)/ guardians and arrange a meeting to discuss how the matter can be resolved.

Homework Policy

Success Criteria

The success of this policy will be measured through feedback from teachers, pupils and parents. Also from satisfactory homework exercise, assignments and projects submitted by pupils.

This Homework Policy was adopted by the Board of Management in February 2017. It will be reviewed thereafter on an annual basis and amended if necessary.
